Private family debuttar property, incidents of.

——debuttar property not dedicated to public idol may be converted to a secular property by the consensus of the whole family. 12 C. W. N. 98, 15 C. W. N. 126, 16 C. W. N. 29, 2 C. 341, 4 I. A. 52 P. C ——in case of private family debuttar the shebaits cannot give the property a different turn. It is the members of the family who by the consent of all can convert the debuttar property into secular property. 27 C. W. N. 218.

——the mere fact that two branches of the family of the shebaits collected a half share of the rents of the endowed property separately did not prove that the property was treated as secular property. 15 C. W. N. 126

——when a private debuttar property had been partitioned between the members of the family for the better enjoyment thereof and there had been sales and mortgages of portions of the property by some members but there was nothing to show that there was a consensus to give the property a different turn, held that the original debuttar character of the property being established these facts did not destroy the debuttar character. 16 C. W. N. 29, 2 C. 341 P.C.

——in the case of private debuttar properties it is not unusual to describe them as "ancestral" or as "our debuttar properties" and the heirs of the founder describe their interest as shebaits according to the shares they have in secular properties. 41 C. L. J. 2 5. 1 C. 616 . 1925 Cal. 996.

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894).

Scope of the Act

——the general scheme of the Act is first, there is to be an inquiry by a Govt. officer into the question, (1) whether the proposed acquisition is needed for the construction of some work, (2) whether such work is likely to prove useful to the public. If the Govt. officers report affirmatively on both points then the Local Govt. may issue a declaration that the land is required for the purpose stated, and this being done the sequel is the ascertainment of value by the Collector, but the owner may appeal to the High Court for the determination of value. If a judicial ascertainment of value is desired by the owner, he can obtain it by requiring the matter to be referred by the Collector to the Court 32 C 605; 32 I. A. 93 · 9 C W N. 454, 1 C. L. ——the general rule is that there will be suspension of rent in cases where the landlord has by his action dispossessed the tenant of a portion of the holding demised or where, owing to his action the lessee has not been able to take possession of a part of the holding. There is an exception to this rule that there will only be an abatement where this has occurred with the knowledge of the tenant before he entered into the land that a portion of it was in the possession of another 85 I C. 781: 1925 Cal. 805

——to constitute an eviction of a tenant by the landlord, the physical act may not be necessary, and all that is necessary is some act which constitutes a substantial interference of a parmanent nature with the legal right of the tenant, 43 C L J 94, 45 C. L. J. 32, 104 I C 404 1927 Cal 273

——to constitute eviction, actual physical expulsion by force or violence is not necessary, any act of the landlord or his agent with the intention of depriving the tenant of the enjoyment of demised premises or any part thereof operates as an eviction. 25 C. L J. 53. 21 C W. N 492.

——to justify suspension of rent which is a punishment awarded to the landlord for his illegal act and highhandedness the circumstance of each case should be looked to. Tenants will not be entitled to suspension of rent only for a mistake of the landlord to include certain portion of the land in a previous decree not comprised in the subject-matter of the suit and consequently having it sold because the tenant could have corrected the mistake in a subsequent suit, 44 C L J 27 1926 Cal. 908 94 I. C 418.

——the Common Law doctrine of suspension of rent can be applied in India as a rule of equity, justice and good conscience and should be applied with caution only. To entitle the tenant to suspend the entire rent it must be shown that the eviction was the act of landlord and was done with the intention of depriving the tenant of the enjoyment of the demised premises or land and not that it was accidental to the ignorance of the parties as to the real boundaries of the lands 1926 Cal 1148 : 96 I. [illegible]

——the question whether the payment of interest can be said to be made "as such" is one of fact in each case. 93 I. C. 295 : 1926 All 329.

——payment towards interest must be made "as such" i.e., it must expressly be towards interest. It has nothing to do with the general right of the creditor of appropriation of money either towards interest or towards principal 1925 Cal. 1030 : 87 I. C. 746, 90 I. C 774, 28 Bom L. R. 569, 96 I. C 311 : 1926 Bom. 423, 51 M 549 : 111 I. C 210, 1928 Mad 509

——where there is nothing to show if it is for principal or interest, the court is entitled to find out on evidence for what purpose the payments were made. The expression "person liable to pay" does not mean the whole or entire body of persons liable to pay and includes one of several mortgagors. 90 I. C. 774 : 1926 Cal 150.

——payment not expressly made for interest nor proved as such, is payment for principal. 22 C. W. N. 190.

——where payment is made towards a debt, the court can find out whether it has been made for interest or principal. 44 C. 567.

——where there are several debts, payment of interest may be presumed to have been made to all 8 I. C. 8.

——where there is simple and usufructuary mortgage of the same property payment of usufruct under the usufructuary mortgage cannot be said to amount to payment of interest under the simple mortgage. 49 A 430 : 25 A. L. J. 353 : 1927 All. 417 100 I. C. 670.

——payment of interest saves limitation even though a part of the principal is paid at the same time. 1923 M. W. N. 561 . 74 I C. 777.

Payment of principal.

——the fact of payment of principal must appear in the handwriting of the person making the payment. 23 C. 546, F. B., 26 B. 246, 17 N. L. R 40 : 62 I. C. 297, 29 Bom. L. R. 438 . 103 I. C. 727 : 1928 Lah. 157.

——where the debtor is literate the whole entry recording the payment of principal should be written by himself, 35 C. 813 : 13 C. W. N. 177, 38 M. 438, 41 B. 166, and if that be not done, in that case also, the endorsement will amount to an acknowledgment of liability under sec. 19, 40 M. 698, 17 M. L. J. 80.

S. 20. Effect of payment of interest on principal—contd.

——but in case of illiterate person the endorsement may be in the handwriting of a third person and the debtor may subscribe his mark, 23 C W. N. 930, 7 M. 76, 7 M. 55, 2 Pat. L T, 355, 52 M. 356 : 109 I. C. 702 1928 Bom. 417 : 30 Bom L R. 500.

——illiterate person affixing a mark is sufficient. 23 C. L. J. 222 : 23 C W. N. 262.

——in case of joint debtors it is sufficient if the writing is made by the debtor paying the debt. and it is signed by both 25 Bom. L. R. 354 : 74 I. C. 302.

Payment of decretal amount.

——debt. under this sec. includes money payable under a decree, and decree means not only a final decree but also a preliminary decree for sale. 49 A 147: 98 I. C. 818. 25 A. L. J. 154 : 1927 All 159.

——part payment of decretal amount credited in execution petition presented within 3 years, amounts, if the fact be proved, to a certificate of payment and saves limitation. 41 M. 251, 20 C L. J. 131 Ref.

——when there is no order of interest in a decree, payment without the writing of the Jt Dr. cannot save limitation 22 C. W. N 325

——when the payment for interest is under a decree and it is certified by the D Hr. in his petition of execution it saves limitation. 22 C W. N 325 : 23 C. L J. 390, 20 C. W. N 272, 26 C W N. 519, 523.

——but the D. Hr must certify payment within such time as is required to save the application for execution from being barred by limitation 23 C. W N. 320 See 24 C W. N. 38 n

——a payment of interest as such to mortgagees decree-holder by auction purchaser of the equity of redemption, saves limitation, 44 M 544. 40 M L. J. 218

Payment of rents and profits of lands.

——receipt of rent and produce of land as interest saves limitation 35 C L J. 58 : 64 I C. 903. 72 I. C. 492

——In the case of an usufructuary mortgage the receipt of profit by the mortgagee does not give fresh starting point to a suit for redemption 110 I. C 560.

Payment of mortgage debt.

——payment of interest of mortgage debt extends the period of limitation as regards personal decree under Or, 34 r. 6, 18 C W N 220 n, 31 C. L. J. 7, so also when the mortgagee is in possession, 47 B. 1206.

——receipt of rents by a sub-mortgagee does not extend the time for redemption of the original mortgage. 24 Bom. L. R. 713 : 1922 B. 356. 70 I. C. 906

——where payment was make by mortgagor after mortgage decree and equity of redemption was purchased by third person prior to such payment, it saved limitation as against purchase-of the equity of redemption. 44 C. L. J. 475 : 98 I C. 381 : 1927 Cal. 193.

——payment by co-mortgagor saves limitation against others 99 I. C. 424 : 1927 All 209, 1929 All. 380.

S. 21 (1) Agent of person under disability, (2) acknowledgment by one of several joint contractors.

——an acknowledgment not stating the amount of liability is not a proper acknowledgment 115 I C 263 : 1928 Cal. 850

——under this sec. a partner ipso facto has no authority to acknowledge or to make a part payment, but if he has general authority to contract debts or make payments he has implied authority to keep the debt alive 1928 Mad. 972, 41 M. 427 F. B. Fol.

——ordinarily in a going mercantile concern the authority of one partner to sign acknowledgment on behalf of the firm is to be presumed, but in case of cessation of business one partner has no power to make an acknowledgment so as to save limitation under s 21 (2) 27 Panj. L R 593 · 1926 Lah. 616 . 7 Lah. 403.

——where a partnership business was dissolved but one partner who was entrusted with the winding up of its affairs endorsed a partpayment of a certain amount for interest upon a pro-note in favour of a person who had no notice of the dissolution the part payment would save limitation against the firm. 1925 M. W. N. 707.

——s. 21 (2) should be limited to cases expressly covered by it and the term "only" in that sec is not a mere surplusage 44 C. L. J. 475 : 1927 Cal. 193 : 98 I. C. 381.

——to apply s 21 (2) it must be shown that the acknowledgment made by one partner was impliedly authorized by the other [illegible] was act necessary for or [illegible]. Acknowledgment made in [illegible] business saves limitation.

——s. 21 (2) only lays down that one of the joint contractors [illegible] acknowledgment made by [illegible] acknowledgment is not binding [illegible] 1928 All. 387 : 110 I. C. 561.

W. N. 70 that where the deft built upon the land under the bona fide belief that he was building on land which so far he knew was land on which he was entitled to build and the pltf did not purposely assert his right and never interfered for a full one year, the court ought not to order the removal of the building. But it has been clearly pointed out in 27 C 307 that to avail himself of the plea of acquiscence and estoppel it is necessary for the deft. to show that in spending money in erecting this building he was acting under an honest belief that he had a permanent right in the land and that the landlord knowing that he was acting under such belief stood by and allowed him to go on with the completion of the building.

——tenant is not bound to produce his rent-receipts when the Zemindar's own papers are in his favour. 22 C W. N. 999.

——when the plaintiffs succeeded in showing that the holdings as recorded in the record of rights did not exist in that condition during the previous years, the tenants were to show that their holdings were made up of the other holdings on which uniform rent was being paid all along. (1923) Pat. 339.

Procedure

——"land of similar description and with similar advantages" refers to the time of inception of tenancy. 2 W. R. (Act X) 43 contra., to the time of suing for enhancement. I C. L R 549. 7 W. R 97

——"prevailing rate" means the rate generally prevalent or the rate paid by the majority of the raiyats in the neighbourhood. 9 W. R. 83, 6 W R (Act X) 45, I C W. N. 179n.

——"prevailing rate" is not the average rate. I W. R. 53, 21 W. R 157, 21 C 986.

——where there is no prevailing rate but the rates are varying the lowest rate may be taken for enhancement. I C W N. 310

——if the landlord does not object, the adoption of the lowest rate cannot be challenged by the tenant. 15 C. W. N. 56 n.

——rent illegally settled cannot be a standard. 37 C. 742 . 14 C W N 914.

——arbitrators may settle fair and equitable rate. 6 C. W. N. 614.

S. 38. Reduction of Rent.—contd.

——a tenant is entitled to reduction of rent in cases where it cannot be shown that the failure to supply water has taken place while the rent was as high as the present figure 1915 M. W. N. 791 : 32 I. C 809.

S. 39. PRICE-LIST

——it is the duty of the court to refer to the price list 37 C 742 : 14 C. W. N. 914, 91 I C 42, whether the parties to the suit produced them or not. 91 I C 734 (c)

——enhancement of rent means enhancement in amount and not alteration in kind 18 C L J 74, 33 C 200

——stipulation to pay rent in kind after the expiry of the term of the lease is enforcible. 18 C. L J. 74 17 C. L. J 590, but the stipulation to pay rent at an enhanced rate is penal 22 C 658, 13 C. W. N. 276n.

——where there was an agreement that a portion of the rent reserved in the lease would remain in suspension and after the expiry of the lease the tenant continued to hold at the lower sum, and the tenant was sued for the full rent reserved, held that the agreement did not contravene the provisions relating to non-occupancy raiyat 20 C W. N 347.

Ss 44 EJECTMENT OF NON-OCCUPANCY RAIYAT.

——transfer of possession or denial of title does not operate as forfeiture 1 C W N 158.

——a lease executed during the continuance of occupation is not a lease under sec. 44 Cl. (c) and a non-occupancy raiyat cannot be ejected on its expiration. 9 C W. N. 287n.

Ss. 44. Ejectment of non-occupancy raiyat.—contd.

——a non-occupancy raiyat whose lease has expired is liable to ejectment under the general law as trespasser. 3 Pat. L. J. 1 ——under the B. T. Act there is no tenant from year to year and the tenant is a non-occupancy raiyat who does not hold under a lease for time, he cannot be ejected under s. 44. 20 C. W. N. 258.

——where after the expiry of a lease the tenant held over for some time and subsequently another lease was executed, in a suit for ejectment under s. 44, on the ground the time had expired, held that s 47 would be a bar. 79 I. C. 648

——when a homestead land ceases to be such and is let out for cultivation and cereals and vegetables are grown upon it, it is governed by the B. T. and the lessee is a non-occupancy raiyat liable to be ejected only on any of the grounds specified in s 44 1923 Pat 94.

——non-occupancy raiyat inducted into the land by ijaradar is not liable to ejectment after the expiry of the ijara lease except under this sec, 10 C L. J. 55.

——non-occupancy raiyat cannot be ejected without notice to quit even after the expiry of the lease 13 C. W. N. 276 n.

S. 46 DETERMINING FAIR AND EQUITABLE RENT.

S 50. RULES AND PRESUMPTION AS TO FIXITY OF RENT.

Scope and Applicability of this section.

——the words "at the time of permanent settlement" relate to the date of the Permanent Settlement and not to the time when the settlement with the proprietors actually took place. 1926 Pat. [illegible]: 7 Pat. L. T. 679 : 109 I. C. 125.

Scope and Applicability of this section.—contd.

——s. 50 (2) applies irrespective of any contract between the parties if the rent has actually not been changed. 1926 Cal 1177: 96 I. C. 76 : 3[illegible] C. W. N. 105.

——presumption of fixity of rent under s. 50 (2) is by its terms limited to its application to suits or proceedings under the B. T. Act. A suit for ejectment does not fall within that description. 15 C. [illegible] 778, 5 C. L. J. 413 : 4 C. W. N. 159 n, 7 C. W. N. 102, [illegible] C. L. J. 380 : 16 C. W. N. 939 : 3 C. L. J. 62 n. But it has been ruled that even in cases where s. 50 is not directly applicable, the court may act on a presumption similar to the one of arising under the section if the facts justify the necessary inference. 27 C. L. J. 54, 1924 Cal 302 : 73 I. C. 416 : 43 C. L. J. 164. (13 C. L. J. 415, 418, 18 C. L. J. 193)

— where the presumption under s. 50 (2) does not apply the court may consider the facts in view of all the circumstances and determine whether it was not a just inference that the rent of the holding is fixed. 1926 Cal 887 : 94 I. C. 310.

— it has no application in suits which are not suits under this Act, but suits under the general law for ejectment of an alleged trespasser. But a presumtion may arise apart from the Act that where there has been a uniform payment of rent for more than 20 years the original contract was a contract to hold at fixed rates. 43, C. L. J. 104 : 94 I. C. 740.

——the presumption under s. 50 (2) can only be availed of in a suit or proceeding under the B. T. Act when the plff. sues for recovery of possession alleging that the deft. is a trespasser and the deft. claimed to be a tenant, the rent could not be said to be one under this Act until the fact of the deft's tenancy was made out and the fact was to be made out independently of s. 50. 85 I. C. 636 : 1925 Cal 761.

— s. 50 contemplates a case where the tenancy is held at a certain rate and s. 29 deals with a case where rent has been actually paid for a period of three years. 37 C. L. J. 489 : 1923 C. 600 : 72 I. C. 136.

—where by a contract of tenancy subsequently entered into between the parties, the landlord is entitled to get rent at the rate payable for the cultivated lands of the village s. 50 does not apply. 36 C. L. J. 333 : 1923 C. 141 : 70 I. C. 437.

—where the kabuliyat states that if excess area is found in the possession of the tenant he will pay rent for that excess land at the higher rate paid by the neighbouring tenants, it does not propose to alter the rent within s. 50 : 97 I. C. 46.

[illegible] an agreement in a kabuliyat to pay enhanced rent at some future time does not constitute a change in the rate of rent and the agreement does not rebut the presumption under s. 50 (2). 30 C. W. N. [illegible] : [illegible] I. C. 753 : 1926 Cal. 1207.

Scope and applicability of this section—contd.

——presumption under the sec. is applicable to tenure-holder or a raiyat holding at a rent payable partly in cash and partly in kind or entirely in kind. 27 C. W N. 115 36 C L J. 220, 37 C. L. J. 52, 1923 C 74 : 72 I. C. 663.

——an occupancy raiyat is not excluded from the category of raiyat for the purpose of the presumption under this sec Section 50 does not create a raiyat at fixed rate but it furnishes a rule of evidence (26 C. W. N 15 : 34 C. L J. 233, 24 C 152) Ref, and Relied. Actual payment for 20 years need not be proved 27 C. W N. 740 (36 C. L J. 336, 49 C 661 : 35 C. L J 309). Ref

It cannot be held in a case brought under the B T Act that any presumption arises as to the fixity of rent from mere payment of the same rate of rent for a number of years apart from the presumption arising under s. 50 of the Act. To hold otherwise would

S 86 SURRENDER AND RELINQUISHMENT

Distinction between Surrender, Abandonment and Relinquishment.

Surrender and abandonment

——the position of a landlord is stronger in the case of abandonment than in the case of surrender by a rayat. In the case of abandonment no title is acquired by the landlord through the raiyat as in the case of purchase. 18 C. L. J 193.

——a surrender by a raiyat after giving usufructuary mortgage of the part of his holding may be looked upon as a transfer or grant, so whichever binds the raiyat binds the landlord and he cannot evict the transferee 22 C. W. N. 965.

——a Hindu widow can abandon a raiyati holding but a surrender by a Hindu widow is an act of transfer which has to be justified by legal necessity. 63 I. C. 211, but a surrender by Hindu widow is valid if it is for pious purposes or for legal necessity. 4 P. L J 548 : 50 I C 872.

Relinquishment.

——the right of relinquishment is a privilege given to tenants, by means of which they may restrict the lease, and establish the tenure upon a new basis, or may extinguish the lease altogether, and the tenants cannot avail themselves of that privilege to any extent unless they strictly observe the conditions which are either expressed or are implied in the lease itself 26 C. 29 : 2 C.
